

Eitan Alimi, senior lecturer in political sociology at Hebrew University of Jerusalem, speaks on "The Relational Context of Radicalization: The Case of Jewish Settler Contention before and after the Gaza Pullout" on April 1, 2014, at the Mershon Center.

In his talk, Eitan Alimi examined why some contentious social movements experience radicalization while others do not by considering two "similar yet different in outcome" episodes of Jewish settler contention in Israel.
